Let's unite for tourism promotion

- Saroj Pyakurel

We all are well known about the corona virus and its global impacts. Nepal too had been the victim of this devastating pandemic. The country had to go under lockdown for several months. Most of the economic activities were badly affected. Especially it had massive impacts on travel and tourism industry of the nation. Thousands of workers lost their job and thousands of tourism entrepreneurs got vanished from the industry.

Nowadays Covid pandemic is getting slower from the globe. So the time has come to rethink for revival of our tourism. We should plan and take necessary efforts to bring tourism into a previous form. Tourism is the 4th largest employment generator and one of the major contributor of nations GDP. It's a backbone of Nepal economy. Therefore, it seems all of our responsibility to promote nations tourism and boost the industry.

A collaborative effort is to be made from every sectors to revive it. Local, provincial and federal government should prioritize tourism and take necessary measures for its promotion. We should act in a responsive way to promote tourism thinking it's our own responsibility. Let's talk something about tourism from today for better tomorrow. Let's preserve our culture, nature and heritages. Love Nepal. Promote Nepal tourism.

News from Nepal
Madan Baral

Namaste! from Nepal

A very warm welcome to our latest country member, GTTP Nepal, and Country Director Madan Baral.

GTTP Nepal operates under the umbrella of the Tourism Research & Training Institute (TRTI) and is working in the field of tourism education and training with the objective of promoting Nepal tourism nationally and globally. To ensure we can achieve this, we have been conducting various tourism related awareness programs. GTTP Nepal organised an inter-school tourism speech contest to raise tourism awareness among school students. Ten renowned schools of Kathmandu Valley took part, and we selected three competition winners who were awarded a cash prize and a certificate.

Winners of the inter schools tourism speech contest in Kathmandu Valley

At GTTP Nepal we have prioritised tourism education and literacy as one of the major tools to promote tourism. To help achieve our aims, we held a teachers' conference to educate our tourism teachers on the best way to deliver the GTTP curriculum Passport to the World effectively in the classroom. 18 teachers took part in the program, many of whom had previously been introduced to the curriculum by GTTP India. The teachers will be able to pass on their knowledge at our national level teacher training program.

Tourism teachers in Nepal learn about the GTTP curriculum

ISSUE NO 13 AUTUMN 2022

Some former students tell us about their experience in tourism. Even if the last two years have been difficult, they are still passionate about their career choice!!

Now let's hear from Anne:

Learning about what GTTP Nepal and Madan have achieved in the very short time since becoming a member country of GTTP is impressive! I am excited to see how GTTP Nepal develops over the coming weeks and months, and to hear from students who have been inspired to join our industry. We look forward to welcoming a team from GTTP Nepal to London in December for our Student Research Conference.
